PATRIOTIC PARADE BIG FEATURE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Complete Plans for Event at Meeting Held Last Night at City Hall

Glendale's participation Saturday in the world-wide celebration of the fourth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice is to start with a patriotic parade between 10 and 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Plans for the parade were made last night at a meeting at the city hall directed by D. W. Nicoles, to be marshal of the day, and attended by representatives of the city's patriotic, civic, fraternal and educational organizations.

Following the meeting Mr. Nicoles announced this morning that plans are for forming the parade in four sections and at the conference last night definite plans were made for formation of the sections.

Various Sections

Section one will be composed of all patriotic organizations and will be formed on Broadway just east of Belmont street.

Section two will be composed of all civic organizations and will form on Belmont street with head on Broadway.

Section three will be composed of all fraternal organizations and will form on Cedar street with head on Broadway.

Section four will be composed of all school organizations and will form on Everett street with head on Broadway.

Each section will be directed by two specially appointed aides and Mr. Nicoles has emphasized the necessity of all participants being in their places not later than 9:45 o'clock.

Line of March

The line of march will be from Belmont street and Broadway west on Broadway to Brand boulevard; north on Brand boulevrd to California avenue and then countermarch down Brand boulevard to Colorado street; east on Colorado street to the high school athletic field.

Motorcycle officers, representatives of the city police force and Marshal Nicoles will lead the parade and a company of 200 sailors from the San Pedro Naval station are expected to take part. Music will be furnished by the Elks' band and it is possible that there will be a marine band from San Pedro.

When the parade reaches the high school grounds a squad of National Guard soldiers will fire a volley and a bugler will blow to the colors at 11:02 o'clock, the hour at which the final shot in the World War is said to have been fired.

Afternoon Club to Hold Meet Friday

The members of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will hold their regular meeting on Friday, November 10, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Tanner, 400 North Louise street. A patriotic program will be presented under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Weller. Mrs. Warren Roberts, curator, requests that all donations to the fancy work booth, which will be in charge of the section for the club's society circus and bazaar to be given at the Elks' clubhouse on Saturday, November 18, be brought to this meeting, with the name of the donor and ticket with price, if possible. The members of the music section will present the "charter day" program of the club on Tuesday, November 14, at Masonic Temple.

Baby Throws Away Valuable Keepsake

When 3-year-old Jeannette Hamlin of 315 North Louise street, saw something shiny on the dresser in her mother's room a week ago and decided that it would make a fine plaything, she did not realize that it was her mother's wristwatch. After playing with it for a while Jeannette tired of her new toy and threw it into the street either on Maryland avenue or Louise street. Mrs. Hamlin did not miss the watch until last Sunday and is very anxious to recover it as she values it as a keepsake. The watch was engraved with the initials "G. L. H."

Parade Particulars Voiced by Mrs. Dow

Mrs. Lillian Dow, patriotic chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon club, states that the members of that organization who will take part in the Armistice Day parade will form in line at Belmont street and Broadway, Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the club, is desirous of having a large number of the club members take part in the parade, the line of march of which will take only about three-quarters of an hour. Those not caring to march may come in their own automobiles.

Friend Richardson Expresses Thanks to His Supporters

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Governor-elect Friend W. Richardson made the following statement today:

"From the returns received it is evident I have been elected by a majority of 200,000 and have carried fifty-seven out of the fifty-eight counties of the state. The result shows that the people want an economical administration, business substituted for politics, and that there has been no attempt to inject religious issues into politics. I realize the responsibilities facing me and will bend every effort to live up to my campaign pledges. I want to thank my many friends for their help and particularly the women of California who made my great majority possible."

WRIGHT MEASURE BADLY BEATEN, FIGURES SHOW

Prohibition Enforcement Law Loses Out, According to Returns Over State

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Overwhelming defeat of the Wright prohibition enforcement law by the voters of California was indicated today when a tabulation of 1,176 precincts all over the state showed totals of two to one against the measure. The figures were:

Yes, 52,219; no, 104,251.

Likewise the water and power act providing for a huge bond issue for state hydro-electric development went down to defeat. A similar number of precincts on this measure gave: Yes, 62,930; no, 96,123.

The veterans' aid measure, No. 3, as representative of the several soldier aid measures, has apparently been carried two to one. On this measure 1,276 precincts gave, yes, 87,635; no, 40,480.

Senator Reed Wins by 50,000 Plurality

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8.—Early returns today from three-fourths of the state indicated that Senator James A. Reed would be re-elected by a plurality of approximately 50,000 votes. His big majority was being gained in the city of St. Louis where his campaign managers claimed he had won by 45,000 over R. R. Brewster, the Republican candidate.

Two Republican congressmen, L. C. Dyer and Cleveland A. Newton, and Harry B. Hawe, a Democrat, were re-elected to the lower branch of congress.

Mrs. Logan Hostess to School Teachers

Nine teachers were dinner guests Monday night of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Logan at their home, 1153 North Central avenue. They were Miss Carrie Noble, Miss Lorene Dow, Mrs. Carrie S. MacLennan, Miss Helen Buck, Mrs. Berdeen Anderson and Charles E. Merrill of the Wilson Avenue Intermediate school faculty. Celia, Wilbur and Oliver Logan were present, also.

Woman Is Defeated for Congress Place

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 8. — On the face of unofficial and incomplete returns early today, Senator A. A. Jones, Democrat, has been re-elected and John Morrow, Democrat, has won over Mrs. Adelina Otero Warren for New Mexico's seat in the house. The state ticket was in doubt, with Democratic headquarters claiming it by 5,000 majority.

Harding's County Is Taken by Democrat

MARION, O., Nov. 8.—Marion county, home of President Harding, was carried by Donahey, Democrat, for governor, according to complete returns. The vote was: Thompson (R) 7,847; Donahey, (D) 7,924. Fess (R) carried it for senator, receiving 8,060 votes to 7,886 cast for Pomerene.

Senator J. I. Francis Meets With Defeat

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—Senator Joseph I. Francis, Republican, was defeated by William E. Bruce, Democrat, for the United States senate in Tuesday's election. Mr. Bruce's majority in the entire state will probably be 20,000.

ORANGE COUNTY VOTE

SANTA ANA, Nov. 8.—Fifty-two out of a total of 124 precincts in Orange county gave: Governor: Richardson, 5484; Woolwine, 1546. Senator: Johnson, 3777; Pearson 1725.

CITY HAS LOWEST LIGHTING RATES, C. OF C. HEARS

Charges Less Than Numerous Communities; Local Phone Betterments

That Glendale citizens pay a 35 per cent lower lighting rate than to neighboring communities; that Sunday twenty Southern Pacific trains will begin stopping daily at Glendale, giving the same service out of here as they do Los Angeles; and that the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company intends shortly to augment its local phone service with additional equipment, constitutes the gist of the announcements made yesterday at the regular weekly luncheon and meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Exclusive of the foregoing announcements, which, as members of the Chamber of Commerce point out, reveal the faith that corporate industries have in the future of Glendale, the meeting yesterday will probably be best remembered because it was one of the largest luncheon meets of the kind ever held by the local organization.

Twelve New Members

The unprecedented assemblage was partly accounted for in a brief speech made by V. M. Hollister, president of the chamber, who presided. He announced from the speakers' table that twelve new members and manufacturers' agents had joined the chamber in the past week. This brought the "well put" rejoinder from one of the members that "the Chamber of Commerce's membership is growing quite as fast as Glendale itself."

P. Diederich, plant superintendent of the public service department, was author of the statement that the lighting rate in effect here is the lowest of any city in the southland. Compared with the southern California rates, he said Glendalians pay a 35 per cent lower lighting charge. He also stated that power rates compared favorably with those of any city hereabouts. The basic lighting rate in effect in Glendale is 5 cents, Mr. Diederich announced.

Thed Aker, local agent for the Southern Pacific was the person who made the euphonical statement regarding the new train service. He said that with the

Postoffice Staff to Parade Saturday

Captained by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, the Glendale postoffice staff has lined up for a truly patriotic Armistice Day with work half the day and the afternoon for participating in the day's celebration.

Postmaster Jackson had the authority to decide as to a half holiday and he has announced that there will be one mail delivery to all parts of the city Saturday morning. He further announces that the stamp and parcel post windows will be the only windows open and that after 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon there will be but one window open at the postoffice.

"We're all heartily in favor of celebrating Armistice Day," says Postmaster Jackson, "and we want to head the list for taking a half holiday on Saturday."

Afternoon Club Is Host to Librarian

Miss Gertrude Darlow of the Los Angeles city library was a special guest and speaker yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club with Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of 246 North Orange street.

Miss Darlow spent last year traveling through Poland and she entertained the club women with an account of her trip and of present-day conditions in Poland. She gave a comparison of Poland of today with the Poland of prewar days and emphasized the drab lives the Polish people are living.

There was splendid attendance and at the close of the afternoon Mrs. Hutchinson served English tea and English fruit cake complimentary to Miss Darlow, who is an English woman.

Mrs. Williams Back From Journey East

Mrs. Nettie Williams of Tujunga, formerly of Glendale, has returned from a visit in Boston, New York and other eastern cities. She also visited her mother, who recently came from Europe and whom she had intended to bring to California with her, but owing to her mother's ill health this was impossible.

Miss Lilliam Rubin of Boston accompanied Mrs. Williams back to California and is spending the winter here as her house-guest. Miss Rubin is considering purchasing a home here and making her permanent home in Southern California. Mrs. Williams is looking forward to returning to Glendale to live the latter part of the month, when she will move into her home at 811 East Colorado street.

PUBLIC QUESTIONS ARE CONSIDERED AT GATHERING

Foothill Improvement Club Urges Action Be Taken on Many Matters

An interested crowd of westside residents celebrated election night by attending the meeting of the Foothill Improvement association at the Garfield schoolhouse. The meeting was devoted to the discussion of public measures of vital interest to the westsiders and might be summed up as:

First, it was the opinion of the meeting that the district should ask the city engineer to check up on the water distributing system in that part of the city, where $30,000 in bonds were voted two years ago.

That the district urge the city council to purchase the Hahne property adjoining the Patterson Avenue park to be used for park purposes.

That the association launch a unique membership drive featured by business and social meetings and a community "sing."

Change in Names

That the district urge the city street department to change the names on street corners to conform to the latest naming of streets and avenues in the northwest section.

That the cleaning and improvement of Roberta avenue to the Garfield school be referred to the city council and city health officer.

Consideration was also given a proposed grammar school bond issue. The new schoolhouse although only three months' old is already filled and more room and an auditorium needed. At present there are 132 children attending the school.

In recognition of Children's Book week those attending the meeting left a contribution for the children to use on their school library books.

During the meeting Mr. Goulic spoke on "Transportation to and from Los Angeles" and Attorney George King spoke on "Annexation to Los Angeles and Glendale's Taxation."

The next meeting of the association will be held the first Tuesday night in December, when a musical program will be given.

Senator Newberry Is Silent on Future

DETROIT, Nov. 8—Conferences to take place within the next few days will be fraught with meaning for Senator Truman H. Newberry, he indicated here today when asked if he would resign because of the defeat of Senator Charles E. Townsend, Republican, who championed Newberry's cause in the senate.

"I can say nothing about my future until I have heard all of the returns from the state and from several others," said Mr. Newberry. "I will have to hold a conference with friends that will have a bearing on things outside the state before I can reach any decision as to resigning or remaining in office.

"It appears as if Mr. Ferry has taken the seat," Newberry conceded. "I have certainly taken no steps here or at Washington that would lead to the belief that I had given my resignation to Governor Groesbeck to take effect in case Mr. Ferry won."

Birthday Party Is Given by Mrs. Wilson

Mrs. H. H. Wiebe of 438 West Burchett street entertained with a party at her home yesterday afternoon in celebration of the fifth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Lenore Elizabeth Wiebe. Hallowe'en colors were used to decorate the large table where refreshments were served. Bouquets of chysanthemums were used throughout the house. The guests were Rosemary Boody, Jean and Barbara Miller, Mrs. J. M. Buhler and children, Donald and Marjorie, of Los Angeles.

Club Meets at Home of Mrs. Hutchinson

Members of the literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson at 246 North Orange street, spent a part of the time discussing plans for the apron booth they are to have at the club's society circus November 18. Clever aprons for all ages are being made by the section members and they are anticipating that their booth will be a popular one.

Club Will Exchange Visits This Week

The Tuesday Afternoon club will have representatives at the reciprocity days of two neighboring clubs this week. Mesdames C. A. Brandstater and W. H. Verity went to Van Nuys today to be guests of the club there and tomorrow Mesdames J. E. Sargent and R. K. Snow will go to San Gabriel to a reciprocity meeting.

After announcing that the chancellor of the exchequer would go to Washington at the end of the year to negotiate for the funding of the British war debt to America, the foreign secretary continued:

"It is not for us to suggest participation by the United States in European affairs, but America has a great moral and humanitarian interest in Europe."

Four Persons Killed In Automobile Crash

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Nov. 8.—Four persons were killed and one other injured today when an automobile in which they were riding up a steep grade turned over, pinning the victims underneath. It is believed the engine of the machine went dead on the grade and the car started to back down hill, turning over when the driver swerved it in an attempt to keep in the middle of the road.

The dead, all residents of Fort Collins, are Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Rohling, J. Sanders and Otto Prather.

Defense for Miners Fails In Court Move

MARION, Ill., Nov. 8.—The attempt by attorneys for the defense to postpone until December 1 trial for the forty-odd men indicted for their alleged connection with the Herrin mine massacre last June was forestalled by Circuit Judge D. Immediately afterward the case against eight men under indictment for murder and held without bond was called.

DRYS HAVE MAJORITY IN BOTH HOUSE AND SENATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The drys will have a substantial majority in both the new senate and house, opposed to a beer and wine amendment, according to the claim of the anti-saloon league today. The league conceded the loss of many votes in the house but estimated they will cover a safe majority. The anti-saloon league claimed a gain of five votes in the senate. The dry loss in the house will not be known until complete returns are in from twenty-five or thirty doubtful districts, where wets appear to be leading by good majorities.

WOOLWINE BADLY BEATEN IN SAN DIEGO DISTRICTS

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 8.—Friend Richardson was running nearly three to one ahead of Thomas L. Woolwine when 126 precincts out of the 221 in San Diego city and county had been counted today. Senator Johnson's majority over William J. Pearson was only slightly larger than Richardson's lead. The water and power amendment was defeated overwhelmingly, San Diegans registering a two to one disapproval. The Wright prohibition enforcement act appears also to have been turned down here, though by a narrow margin. Totals for the 126 precincts complete: For governor—Richardson, 15,669; Woolwine 5888. U. S. senator—Johnson 16,009; Pearson 5681.

FIRST DEMOCRAT FROM MICHIGAN IN 70 YEARS

DETROIT, Nov. 8.—Woodbridge N. Ferris, successful Democratic candidate in the Michigan senatorial contest, had piled up a lead of about 20,000 this afternoon over Senator Charles E. Townsend, Republican. Ferris is the first Democrat to be sent to the senate from Michigan in seventy years. The vote: 2425 precincts out of 2906—Ferris, 269,843; Townsend, 250,120. In a statement issued today conceding the election of Ferris, Senator Townsend blamed his defeat to the women vote. "I am not surprised at the result," said the statement. "Many women believed, I know, erroneously, that I had committed an offense against good government when I voted to seat Mr. Newberry in the senate. Mr. Ferris capitalized this sentiment and I was defeated."

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

SEATTLE, Nov. 8.—A suicide which is believed to have occurred last Friday was revealed here late last night when the bodies of Mrs. Maude Barwell, 37, and her daughter, Leita, 16, were found shot to death in their home. A note left by Mrs. Barwell gave directions for paying some household bills, and told where burial clothes for herself and daughter could be found. John Barwell, 40, the husband, when he arrived home after an absence of several days and found the bodies, became hysterical and tried to end his own life, declaring he had nothing further to live for. He was taken to the city hospital and placed in a padded cell where he is said to be in a serious condition. Financial reverses and family troubles are believed to have been responsible for the tragedy.

RICHARDSON'S FINAL TOTAL MAY BE ABOUT 100,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—As returns came in from all over California this afternoon the magnitude of the victory scored by Senator Hiram Johnson continued to grow. On the basis of returns received from more than one-third of the state it was evident that the senior senator's majority over W. J. Pearson, his Democratic opponent, would be in excess of 300,000 and might reach 350,000. Thomas Lee Woolwine, by his showing in the bay district and in Sacramento and a few other counties, was cutting down the early lead piled up by Governor-Elect Friend W. Richardson, Republican. However, indications were that Richardson would win by possibly 100,000. Woolwine followers expressed belief, however, his final lead would not be more than 75,000. Richardson supporters held that it would reach at least 150,000.

RICHARDSON'S LEAD IN SOUTHLAND MAY BE 150,000

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—The lead of Friend W. Richardson, Republican candidate for governor, over Thomas Lee Woolwine, his Democratic opponent, increased today as the returns from yesterday's state election were tabulated, and it appeared that Richardson would carry Los Angeles county by more than 75,000 votes, possibly nearly 100,000. Senator Hiram W. Johnson led the Republican ticket in the big G. O. P. landslide, and seems likely to roll up a majority of over 100,000 in the county against his Democratic contender, William J. Pearson. All southern counties apparently have been swept by Johnson and Richardson. Each will have a lead in the south of possibly 150,000 or more, and it seems that Johnson has been elected by the greatest majority of his career. The count of ballots was slower than at any time in the history of the county, due to the numerous propositions. Outstanding results on propositions was the defeat by three to one of the water and power act, the tremendous majorities accorded the chiropractors and the osteopaths, the avalanche against the single tax and the big majority in favor of the police and fire prevention bill.

TROJANS ANXIOUS TO GET STANFORD

Southern Football Squad to Take on Cardinal Team In Game Saturday

By WILLIE FUMBLE

Yes, the U. S. C. Trojan is not suffering from too much Bear meat.

It was whispered around that if Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's squad was beaten by California the rest of the year would only be a blank for the Trojans, so much had they counted on the big game.

It also went around among the natives that should U. S. C. drop the California tilt the morale would be so loosened that the Trojans would be easy bait for even the most humble colleges in the southern part of the state.

But out of the wreck of last week's game with Occidental College one glaring fact stands out. That "Gloomy Gus's" Trojans ain't what they thought they'd be—they were determined to take the rest of the year by ripping up all opposition in sight. And they made a good start on Oxy when they twisted the Tiger's tail 46 to 0 with a make-shift backfield doing all the work.

Now Comes Cardinals

Stanford is the next victim on the Trojan list. Before the California tracas Henderson had his men dreaming and playing against Bear plays and formations; consequently Andy Smith's team didn't have time enough to get their plays off because they were recognized long before Erb had finished calling signals.

Next Saturday the Trojans face the same type of football that they have been playing against their opponents all season. In fact U. S. C. and Stanford play so much alike that the result will only be a question of which team gets its plays off snappier. Very few plays will be pulled off that are not known to the opposing eleven. The Trojans are not going north with the idea that they will defeat Stanford by another California-Washington State score but they will appear on the gridiron next Saturday with the thought in mind that they have to win the game.

In Fine Shape

Henderson's men came out of the California fracas with a few minor injuries and they finished up last week's game with Occidental in fine shape—ready to take the Cards. It is very, very doubtful whether the Stanford scouts gathered any information during last week's gridiron farce which could be called useful to Andy Kerr. The Trojans used only three of their regulars throughout the game and the formations were stock affairs at the most.

This week "Gloomy Gus" will send his men through light workouts and bring the team into tiptop condition. Thursday evening twenty-eight Cardinal and Gold warriors will entrain for the north in order to be on the battle grounds a day before to become acquainted with the change of scenery.

SAILORS PREPARE FOR FINAL GAME

Pacific Fleet Squads Will Meet on Local Field on Armistice Day

With but three more days before the playoff for the 1922 football championship of the Pacific fleet, which is to be held in this city under the auspices of the local post of the American legion next Saturday (Armistice Day), the squads representing the U. S. S. California and the U. S. S. Vestal are putting in extra time at the Fourteenth street training grounds, San Pedro, in preparing for their "big game." Both squads have gone through the present season with a minimum number of scores made against them and have been named as the two best elevens in the fleet.

The fact that the opposing teams in Saturday's fracas will be sailors from rival ships in the United States navy should be sufficient indication that the game will be a battle from start to finish. The ambition of practically every "gob" in the fleet is to be a member of a championship football squad, and when the deciding game is to be played before a neutral crowd they are bound to be more full of fight than ordinarily.

Polar Bears Have Edge

Although Lieutenant Wessel's California squad will outweigh their opponents about five pounds to the man the exceptional speed and aggressiveness of the latter should offset any advantage in avoirdupois, according to Ensign "Mac" McClelland of the Vestals. However, the California "Polar Bears" are conceded a slight edge, due principally to their recent win over the U. S. S. Idaho, last year's champions.

As a preliminary to the main attraction Coach Normal C. Hayhurst of the Glendale high school has announced that the Glendale high lightweights, who won the Central league championship in 1921, will meet the Citrus Union "midgets" in a contest which will decide this year's pennant winner. Neither team has lost a game this season, and a real fight is expected when the "Miniatures" take the field.

Following is the lineup for the "big" game:

U. S. S. C.		U. S. S. V.
Patterson	L.E.R.	Herman
Woodward	L.T.R.	Herman
Davis	L.G.R.	Sheffler
Ward	C.	Purcell

Guthrie	R.T.L.	Hartzell
Saunders	R.E.L.	Johnson

The Short Crucible

THAT'S ME ALL OVER

Some day I'll learn to laugh at Fate
As out across Life's vague expanse
The tides of Fortune alternate,
A craze, dizzy, ceaseless dance.
No hoss I'll play to tempt the great
Unseeing god of carefree Chance.
Yes, some day.

It is now our wish to suggest that the proposed National College of Baseball include in its curriculum an advanced course in journalism so that its graduates may be able to write their own stories for the newspapers.

MR. LEONARD'S EVASIVE JAW

For the benefit of those inspired gentlemen who persist in speculating as to just when Benny Leonard's infected mouth will permit him to engage in another bout with Lew Tendler for the lightweight title we ask the follow question: When will steam rollers replace limousines on Fifth avenue?

Leonard's mouth was so badly battered by Tendler in Jersey City that a fistic sap like Ever Hammer subsequently consigned him to a dentist's chair for months. Wherefore Benny is said to look upon another meeting with Tendler with all the relish of a man about to drink mucilage.

And by the way,
Ere memory pale
The neat defeat
Of Eli Yale,
I herewith say
That come what may,
I'll say horray
For Ioway.

It is worthy to note that the Big Three of collegiate football have discovered quite conveniently that their agreement does not bar intersectional games, as first reported. The discovery, while belated, was nevertheless a propitious one.

With Yale beaten by Iowa, and Princeton knocked off by Chicago for the second year in succession, it was only a question of time until some little Bright Eye looked into the business. The interpretation to the effect that the agreement forbade only intersectional games away from home followed as a matter of course.

THE IMPLACABLE BEZDEK

"In spite of the fact that he pulled a tendon in his leg," writes one of those dear college correspondents," Bezdek drove his Penn State team to the limit."

There's a man for you. Personal injuries mean nothing as heroically he orders others about their work.

It is to be assumed from this that Mr. Bezdek could continue to play the piano in spite of a sore toe.

One of the fastest backs of the year is Williams, of Wisconsin. One of the barest, Kitty Gordon's.

THE EXPENSIVE GIANTS

The New York Giants won a pennant this season with the most expensive collection of near-ivory ever gathered under one tent. It was not a particularly profitable season, and when the World's series became a four-game proposition the club lost money where it expected to gain. Whereat Mr. Stoneham is said to have cast a speculative eye about for a possible purchaser.

We see no cause for his heated denial of this charge. The Giants, in one season, handed over $365,000 for four ball players—$150,000 for Groh, $100,000 for McQuillen, $75,000 for O'Connell and $40,000 for Shinners—and were hard pressed to get it back in spite of being a pennant winner.

Competition is due to become keener with the Yankee stadium open for football and other sports that swell the revenue at the Polo Grounds. Mr. Stoneham may yet be pleased to accept the rumor in the form of a suggestion.

The WORLD OVER

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Since Princeton university recently defeated Chicago university in that remarkable football game in the last quarter when the score stood 12 to 7 in favor of Chicago, the final score being 21 to 18 in Princeton's favor, we have heard a number of fans remark that this condition of affairs only has been possible since the adoption of the forward pass.

In this they are wrong. While there is no question that no football game nowadays is won or lost until the final blast of the whistle, it also is a fact that in the old days, when halves lasted three-quarters of an hour, and there was no such thing as a forward pass, there were remarkable reversals of form.

An outstanding example of this, and probably the most famous of games of this character ever played was the contest between this same Princeton and Harvard in the fall of 1889. At the end of the first half the score stood 15 to 0 in favor of Harvard. With the close of the game the score was 41 to 15 in favor of Princeton, which means that in the last three-quarters of an hour of play, Harvard failed to add to the tally it made in the first half, while the Tigers ran up their 41 points.

Of course, this was a most unusual condition of affairs. The present day fan who says that no game is won or lost until the finish of the fourth quarter is right, and it would be equally right to say that in the old days before the inauguration of the forward pass, the team which got into the lead by a margin of a couple of touchdowns, was, in nineteen out of twenty cases, almost sure of being returned the winner.

As far as the Chicago-Princeton game is concerned, it is the best possible example and incentive for teams that are on the low end of the score to keep on battling. Also, it might be added, it is the best kind of a warning to the team that is in the lead that it cannot afford, for one moment, to relax its vigilance and put every ounce it has into the game.

Harvard, last fall, seemed to have almost a certain victory in its grasp against Princeton, yet in the last few minutes of play the Tigers turned defeat into a victory. It must occur to any who are reading this, that Princeton probably has established a record in pulling victory out of defeat, and without going to the records to check up on the matter, it is more than likely that no major team ever has turned the trick more often. As a dangerous team to the last minute of play, no university eleven has established a greater reputation.

From the point of view of the spectator, the forward pass is proving itself to be capable of the most infinite number of surprises, but it also is probably making coaches and players prematurely gray.

OREGON RETURNS

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Thus far there has been no talk about increasing the Pacific Coast Baseball league from an eight to a ten club organization. We expect to hear the hot stove artists begin to agitate the question. If they don't it will be the exception to a rule of a number of years of standing.

The question has been asked, "Does the scientific boxer stand any chance with the slugger in a four-round bout"? Our personal opinion, derived from first hand observation in this matter, is to the effect that he has only a slim one. The very shortness of the bout precludes any fancy action, but demands a very strenuous, business-like attention from the very start. Certainly, to rush in and force the action every moment of the time does not make for the ring generalship required in longer bouts, nor is it conducive to the betterment of form. It generally calls for a scramble with the boy showing the most action and aggressiveness being returned the winner.

Judged by the many long runs that are being made on the gridiron this fall after receipt of a kick, one wonders if the opposing end rushers are putting on all the speech that is possible in getting down on punts. The average kick covers about thirty-five yards, and if the receiver is allowed to run it back ten or fifteen yards each time, there is little use in having a competent punter if his gains are to be nullified. With a punter putting sufficient height into his kicks, there is no reason why ends should not be down the field and meet up with the ball by the time it lands. Of course, the kicker must use judgment. If his ends are fast he can afford to kick lower for greater distance. If they are slow he must give the additional height, in order to allow for greater time. Perhaps the solution of the fact that ball and end do not arrive at a common point simultaneously is that the kicker has not given sufficient study to the capabilities of his ends.

The news that, owing to an injury to his hand, it is probable that William Tilden, champion singles tennis player of the United States, will never again enter competition naturally has been a source of genuine grief among the followers of the game. At the same time, there are very many who are not, as yet, ready to accept this as the final verdict and are clinging to the hope that it is more or less the cry of "wolf" that has gone up and that someone has erred on the side of sensationalism rather than an adherence to the strict truth.

LOCAL TEAM WINS FOOTBALL BATTLE

Glendale High Takes Game From Monrovia Squad by 26 to 0 Score

Coach Howard Butterfield's Glendale High school 130-pound football team yesterday advanced one step nearer the Central league championship when they walked over the Monrovia squad to the tune of 26 to 0. The final result of the game was never in doubt, the Red and Black warriors shoving the ball over for a touchdown in the first quarter, when Le Frence' scored after five minutes of play.

Roberts and Shuler, the flashy little pair of halfbacks who have been playing phenomenal football all season, were the outstanding stars of the day. Whenever either one of these little huskies was given the ball Glendale was sure of from four to ten yards. Captain Roberts furnished the most sensational play of the game in the third quarter when he ran a Monrovia punt back sixty yards, crossing the line for the second time of the game.

The four touchdowns were distributed equally throughout the game, one being put over in each quarter. Roberts carried the ball over twice, while Fullback White bucked the last one across the line. Lovell, who substituted at fullback during part of the contest, converted two of the touchdowns with perfect dropkicks.

Line Is Excellent

Glendale's line played an excellent game from start to finish, the particularly strong points being Jeter, in the center berth, and McIver and Kelsey on the ends. The ability of the last two named performers was exceptionally noticeable when it came to stopping the opposing backs and running down the field under punts.

Captain Perry, quarterback, and Ordrey, right tackle, looked good for the losers, their play at all times making their squad dangerous. The line-up:

Glendale		Monrovia
McIver	L.E.R.	Olson
Burns	L.T.R.	Ordrey
Morrison	L.G.R.	Coleman
Jeter	C.	Denning
Putnam	R.G.R.	Allen
Searles	R.T.L.	Rodice
Kelsey	R.E.L.	Collins
Le Frence'	Q.	Perry (C)
Roberts (C)	L.H.R.	Novell
Shuler	R.H.L.	Blair
White	F.	Lusker

new local schedule in operation Sunday noon, twenty trains, ten each way, will make regular daily stops at Glendale.

More Improvements

"And just as soon as the new Southern Pacific depot is constructed," Mr. Aker said, "this service will be improved with the addition to the schedule of the Sunset Limited, which will stop here each night at 8:52 en route to San Francisco."

One of the advantages as regards the above is that local residents bound for San Francisco, Portland or eastern points can entrain at Glendale instead of making the trip to Los Angeles. To accommodate the arrival and dispatching of trains the Southern Pacific will keep its depot open between the hours of 8 and 12 a. m., and 1 and 5 p. m., Mr. ....er said.

While on the subject Mr. Hollister, of the chamber, took occasion to announce that freight rates out of Glendale will be amended shortly to meet the rates quoted out of Los Angeles.

Fred Deal, manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, volunteered the information that a new switchboard has just been established in Glendale by his company which will release 1150 additional telephones. He also stated that his company expended $165,000 in this city this year. According to his company's method of determining population gains, Mr. Deal predicts that Glendale's population will range upwards of 45,000 in 1927. He also said:

Highest Percentage

"During 1921 the San Fernando valley had the highest percentage of gain in telephones than any other city or community on the Pacific coast."

Before the meeting adjourned Dr. Jessie A. Russell, president of the Federated Glendale Improvement association, announced that a banner "get acquainted meeting" will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. The meeting which will be informal, is being promoted for the purpose of making acquaintances in Glendale contagious. A "peppy" program will climax the party, the speaker said.

How Much to Save

We are often asked how much a person should save.

That is a hard question to answer—it depends on what you earn, how big your family is and a lot of other things.

Our experience with savers has shown that nearly everyone can save more than he thinks he can. A young man or woman who is really in earnest about getting ahead can save one-fourth to one-half on a salary of $100 to $175 a month. Ten per cent is about the average for persons with family responsibilities.

But remember this: What you save in your "twenties" is worth more than twice as much to you as what you save in your "forties."

HIRAM JOHNSON LEADING TICKET

Senior Senator Is Re-elected by Greatest Majority In His Political Career

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. — Re-elected by the greatest majority ever accorded him in his long political career, Senator Hiram Johnson led the entire Republican ticket in California to an overwhelming victory.

Johnson, it appeared today, would win by at least 300,000 over W. J. Pearson, his Democratic opponent.

Friend W. Richardson has been elected governor over Thomas Lee Woolwine, a Democrat, by a majority that on the face of returns today is expected to reach 200,000.

All congressional contests in California but two were disposed of at the primaries and in these early indications were that the Republican candidates have been returned.

In the sixth (Alameda) district James H. McLafferty, Republican, had a substantial lead over H. W. Brunk. In the ninth district, Former Congressman Randall was running Walter F. Lineberger, Republican, a close race, but early indications favored the return of Lineberger.

Although San Francisco went emphatically on record against the enactment of a state Volstead act, indications today were that the Wright act has passed on state referendum providing for state enforcement of the dry laws. The result will be close and the wets claim its defeat.

Democratic Ticket Goes Big In Nevada

RENO, Nev., Nov. 8.—The entire Democratic state ticket with the possible exception of mine inspector was elected yesterday on the face of incomplete returns compiled today. Senator Key Pittman's re-election as United States senator is believed to be assured by a majority of about 2500. Charles Leychards is expected to win over Grant Miller for congress by a safe margin although Colonel James G. Scrugham has a closer fight for governor with John H. Miller, but appeared today to have been elected by about 1,000.

The present divorce law, with its six months' residence provision, remains undisturbed by yesterday's voting, despite the hard fight made by Right Rev. George C. Hunting, Episcopal bishop of Nevada, to change the law to require a year's residence.

Richardson Loses Ground In Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Six hundred ninety-eight precincts complete out of 888 give Johnson 63,616, Pearson 20,542. Richardson 41,202, Woolwine 53,475.

Six hundred ninety-eight precincts give on veteran validating act, No. 1, yes 60,745; no, 24,432. No. 2, Wright dry enforcement, yes, 23,214; no, 68,274. No. 3, veterans' aid, yes, 47,881; no, 24,856. No. 19, water power, yes, 32,588; no, 53,434.

Lodge's Lead About 1800 Votes, Report

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Senator Henry C. Lodge, Republican, according to complete figures today, has been re-elected by the narrow margin of approximately 1800 votes.

The complete unofficial vote for the state was: Lodge, Republican, 416,934; Gaston, Democrat, 415,135.

There was talk at Democratic headquarters of demanding a re-count.

Lodge ran about 50,000 behind Governor Channing H. Cox, Republican who was re-elected over John H. Fitzgerald, Democrat.

Complete returns showed that the people of Massachusetts, in their referendum vote to be heartily opposed to motion picture censorship and a strong support of the prohibition law.

Democrats Gain In Senate and House

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Late returns today from closely contested territory greatly emphasized the magnitude of the Democratic gains made in Teusday's election.

On the basis of returns received up to 10:45 o'clock today, it is now fairly certain that the Republican majority in the senate will be reduced to twelve and possibly to ten, as compared with the present majority of twenty-four.

Republican senatorial defeats suffered in New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware, Indiana and probably North Dakota, encompassed this result.

The Democrats lost only two of their sitting senators—Hitchcock of Nebraska and Pomerene of Ohio.

Washington Elects Miles Poindexter

SEATTLE, Nov. 8.—Republican leaders claimed the re-election of Miles Poindexter to the United States senate over C. C. Dill, Democrat, by a margin of 4000 votes early today in the closest election in the state's history.

Dill was leading with 40,579 votes to Poindexter's 40,175 in 675 precincts reported early today out of 9,446, and the Democratic camp was hopeful that the country districts' stronghold of the state would not overthrow Former Congressman Dill's lead. James A. Duncan, farmer-labor candidate, is expected to poll 40,000 votes.

All five Republican congressmen re-elected, early returns indicated.

Los Angeles Gives Richardson Support

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Two hundred and eighty-five precincts complete, as tabulated this morning, give Richardson 21,385; Woolwine 13,262. The same number of precincts for senator give: Johnson 20,943; Pearson 8,896.

Republicans Retain Control of Congress

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The political pendulum that two years ago carried the Republican party into control of the national government and many state governments, has plunged backward with a mighty surge and put many Democrats in power once more.

A notable series of Democratic gains, marked up by voters in nearly every state yesterday, has fallen short of ousting the Republicans from control of congress, however, and, according to available returns this morning, the Republicans will continue in control of both branches of congress, although by greatly reduced majorities.

The Democrats have gained three, possibly four seats in the United States senate, cutting the Republican majority to 18 or 19 and in the house of representatives, the Republican majority has been cut almost to the vanishing point. Returns this morning indicated the G. O. P. control of the lower house will not be more than twenty seats at the outside and it may be wiped out altogether. Returns from many districts in the west are still missing.

Senator Lodge Has Very Small Lead

BOSTON, Nov. 8. — Senator Henry Cabot Lodge's lead over his Democratic opponent, Colonel William A. Gaston today became exceedingly precarious. With figures from seven Worcester precincts missing, Senator Lodge was leading Gaston by slightly over 1500 votes.

Onions are one of the most valuable crops of Egypt.

OAKLAND, Nov. 8.—Complete returns from 239 precincts out of 513 in Alameda county: Richardson 22,635; Woolwine 14,326. For senator: Johnson 24,180; Pearson 8544.

One hundred and fifty complete precincts gave:

Lieutenant-governor: Young (R) 14,923; Shearer (D) 508.

Secretary of State: Jordan 18,014; Jensen 2,320.

State controller: Hammond 5,402; Riley 13,772.

State treasurer: Johnson 14,778; Martin 4,994.

Veterans' validating act: Yes, 12,149; no, 6,077. Veterans' welfare bond act: Yes, 11,056; no, 5,983.

Islands Swept by Democratic Wave

HONOLULU, Nov. 8.—A Democratic landslide was indicated in returns from the territorial election, early returns giving William P. Jarrett, Democrat, a big lead over John H. Wise, Republican, in the race for the delegateship to congress. On the basis of returns received here the Democrats have carried every island.

Washington Contest for Senator Is Close

SEATTLE, November 8.—983 out of 2,446 precincts in the state give for United States senator: Dill (D) 54,500; Poindexter (R) 50,988; Duncan (F) 14,000.

Volstead, Author of Dry Law, Defeated

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—Senator Frank B. Kellogg, Republican, and Congressman Andrew J. Volstead, Republican, and dry law author, on the basis of early morning figures, have been defeated in what promises to be one of the biggest political overtures in Minnesota of the last decade.

Three hundred anad sixty-four precincts out of 3,479 in the state give Kellogg 33,595; Shipstead, farmer-labor party candidate, indorsed by the railroad brotherhoods, state federation of labor and non-partisan league, 42,336. and Mrs. Anna D. Olesen, Democrat, a poor third.

Maintain the place where thou standest.

Governor Olcott of Oregon Loses Fight

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 8.—Incomplete returns from thirty out of thirty-six counties indicate Ben W. Olcott, Republican incumbent, has been defeated by Walter M. Pierce, Democrat, for governor, by a majority of from 15,000 to 20,000.

Congressman C. N. McArthur is leading Elton Watkins, Democrat, by a small majority on the face of present returns for United States congressman. N. J. Sinnot, Republican, easily won his re-election to congress over J. H. Graham, Democrat, by majority of 25,000. Congressman W. C. Hawley was unopposed.

The compulsory school bill measure has been carried with a plurality of 10,000.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder Bothers.

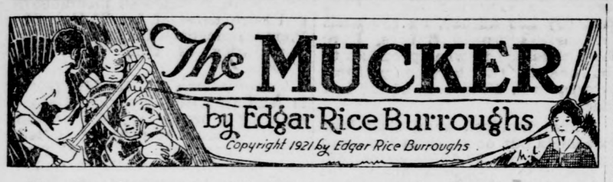
Too much meat may produce uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back, or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to help neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to help to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drink plenty of water at all times.—Advertisement.

Fact Fiction Magazine and Feature Page Fun Fancies



The Frenchman was not unversed in the ways of orientals, and he guessed also that if the white girl were still alive in the village, she would be in no other hut than that of the most powerful chief; but he wished to verify his deductions if possible. He knew that a direct question as to the whereabouts of the girl would call forth either a clever orienttal evasion or an equally clever oriental lie.

"Does Oda Yorimoto intend slaying the white woman that was brought to his house last night?" asked Theriere.

"How should the son know the intentions of his father?" replied the boy.

"How should I know, who was asleep when she was brought, and only heard the womenfolk this morning whispering that Oda Yorimoto had brought home a new woman the night before."

"Could you not see her with your own eyes?" asked Theriere.

"My eyes cannot pass through the door of the little room behind, in which they still were when I left to gather firewood a half hour since," retorted the youth.

"Wot's de Chink sayin'?" asked Billy Byrne, inpatient of the conversation, no word of which was intelligible to him.

"He says, in substance," replied Theriere, with a grin, "that Miss Harding is still alive, and in the back room of that largest hut in the center of the village street; but," and his face clouded, "Oda Yorimoto, the chief of the tribe, is with her."

The mucker sprang to his feet with an oath, and would have bolted for the village had not Theriere laid a detaining hand upon his shoulder.

"It is too late, my friend," he said sadly, "to make haste now. We may, if we are cautious, be able to save her life, and later, possibly, avenge her wrong. Let us act coolly, and after some manner of plan, so that we may work together, and not throw our lives away uselessly. The chance is that neither of us will come out of that village alive, but we must minimize that chance to the utmost if we are to serve Miss Harding."

"Well, wot's de word?" asked the mucker, for he saw that Theriere was right.

"The jungle approaches the village most closely on the opposite side—the side in rear of the chief's hut," pointed out Theriere. "We must circle about until we can reach that point undetected, then we may formulate further plans from what our observations there develop."

"An' dis?" Byrne shoved a thumb at Oda Iseka.

"We'll take him with us—it wouldn't be safe to let him go."

"Why not croak him?" suggested Byrne.

"Not unless we have to," replied Theriere; "he's just a boy—we'll doubtless have all the killing we want among the men before we get out of this."

"I never did have no use fer Chinks," said the mucker, as though in extenuation of his suggestion that they murder the youth. For some unaccountable reason he had felt a sudden compunction because of his thoughtless remark. What in the world was coming over him, he wondered. He'd be wearing white pants and playing lawn tennis presently if he continued to grow much softer and more unmanly.

So the three set out through the jungle, following a trail which led around to the north of the village. Theriere walked ahead with the boy's arm in his grasp. Byrne followed closely behind. They reached their destination in the rear of Oda Yorimoto's "palace" without interruption or detection. Here they reconnoitered through the thick foliage.

"Dere's a little winder in de back of de house," said Byrne, "Dat must be where dem guys cooped up de little broiler."

"Yes," said Theriere, "it would be in the back room which the boy described. First let's tie and gag this young heathen, and then we can proceed to business without fear of alarm from him," and the Frenchman stripped a long, grass rope from about the waist of his prisoner, with which he was securely trussed up, a piece of his loin cloth being forced in his mouth as a gag, and secured there by another strip torn from the same garment, which was passed around the back of the boy's head.

"Rather uncomfortable, I imagine," commented Theriere; "but not particularly painful or dangerous—and now to business!"

"I'm goin' to make a break fer dat winder," announced the mucker, "and youse squat here in de tall grass wid yer gat an' pick off any fresh guys dat get gay in back here. Den, if I need youse, you can come a-runnin' an' open up all over de shop wid de artillery, or if I gets de lizzie outen de jug an' de Chinks push me too clost youse'll be here where yeh can pick 'em off easy-like."

"You'll be taking all the risk that way, Byrne," objected Theriere, "and that's not fair."

"One o' us is pretty sure to get hurted," explained the mucker in defense of his plan, "an' if it's a croak it's a lot better dat it be me than youse, fer the girl wouldn't be crazy about bein' lef' alone wid me—she ain't got no use fer the likes o' me. Now youse are her kin', an' so youse stay here w'ere yeh can help her after I git her out—I don't want nothin' to do wid her anyhow. She gives me a swift pain, and," he added as though it were an after-thought, "I ain't got no use fer dat ransom eider—youse can have dat, too."

"Hold on, Bryne," cried Theriere; "I have something to say, too. I do not see how I can expect you to believe me; but, under the circumstances, when one of us and maybe both are pretty sure to die before the day is much older, it wouldn't be worth while lying. I do not want that damned ransom any more, either. I only want to do what I can to right the wrong that I have helped to perpetrate against Miss Harding. I—I—Byrne, I love her. I shall never tell her so, for I am not the sort of man a decent girl would care to marry; but I did want the chance to make a clean breast to her of all my connection with the whole dirty business, and get her forgiveness if I could; but first I wanted to prove my repentance by helping her to civilization in safety, and delivering her to her friends without the payment of a cent of money. I may never be able to do that now; but if I die in the attempt, and you don't, I wish that you would tell her what I have just told you. Paint me as black as you can—you couldn't commence to make me as black as I have been—but let her know that for love of her I turned white at the last minute. Byrne, she is the best girl that you or I ever saw—we're not fit to breathe the same air that she breathes. Now you can see why I should like to go first."

"I t'ought youse was soft on her," replied the mucker, "an' dat's de reason w'y youse orter not go first; but wots de use o' chewin', les flip a coin to see w'ich goes and w'ich stays—got one?"

Theriere felt in his trousers' pocket, fishing out a dime.

"Heads, you go; tails, I go," he said, and spun the silver piece in the air, catching it in the flat of his open palm.

"It's heads," said the mucker, grinning. "Gee; Wot's de racket?"

Both men turned toward the village, where a jabbering mob of half-caste Japanese had suddenly appeared in the streets, hurrying toward the hut of Oda Yorimoto.

"Somepin doin,' eh?" said the mucker. "Well, here goes—s'long!" And he broke from the cover of the jungle and dashed across the clearing toward the rear of Oda Yorimoto's hut.

PANEL MOUNTING SOCKET

A panel mounting socket of solid design and giving good contact is one of the chief essentials required by the experimenter who builds his own requirement.

The illustration shows just such a socket. The base is made of "condensite" and is 2⅞x2⅞x⅝ inches. It is designed for use with all standard tubes.

GENERATORS AND MOTORS

In the preceding articles some laws of electric and magnetic circuits are discussed, and attention is directed to the relation between electric currents and magnetic fields. In the present chapter certain practical applications will be described, in which use is made of all those laws, but which are based particularly on three experimental facts, namely, that:

1. When a conductor is moved across a magnetic field an emf. is induced in the conductor.

2. When a current flows in a conductor in a magnetic field a cross push is exerted on the conductor.

3. When a current is sent around an iron core the core is magnetized.

The forces involved are not necessarily small, as is sometimes imagined, but may run into hundreds or even thousands of kilograms. Such forces can be used for power applications on a large scale by means of machinery called "dynamo electric" or for short "electrical" machinery.

Electrical machines are used for conversion of power from mechanical to electrical form or vice versa. If driven by some sort of prime mover like a steam or gas engine or water wheel they are called "generators." If supplied with current and used to drive machinery, vehicles or other devices, thus converting electrical power into mechanical power, they are called "motors."

While there are various types of motors and various types of generators, the difference is more in the use than in the construction or appearance; in fact, the difference between most motors and the corresponding kinds of generators is so slight that the same machine can be used for both purposes with no changes or only minor ones. Electric machines may be built for either direct or alternating current.

Find Eighty Bodies In Mine Disaster

SPANGLER, Pa., Nov. 8. — With the exception of the funerals of the victims, most of which will be held today and the coroner's inquest and official investigation to come, the tragedy of the Reilly coal mine on the outskirts of this little town has come to a close. Eighty bodies have been found, seventy-five identified and thirty-two survivors are in the Spangler hospital.

The International News Service correspondent was advised today that the mine has been thoroughly explored and there are no more bodies below. Rescuers have accounted for 112 men which tallies with the number of brass checks issued on the morning of the disaster. Those in the hospital are reported doing well and no more deaths are likely.

He does not believe that does not live according to his belief.

Three Killed and Twenty Others Hurt

DUBLIN, Nov. 8. — At least three free state soldiers were killed and twenty wounded in a violent battle with republican irregulars at Wellington barracks today.

Irregulars attacked the barracks, which were occupied by free state troops. The fight lasted more than an hour with the irregulars making desperate efforts to capture the building and make prisoners of the occupants.

The irregulars' casualties are not known, but are believed to have been heavy.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S PUMPKIN LANTERN

"Nurse Jane," said Uncle Wiggily one day, as he started to hop down the front steps of his hollow stump bungalow, "I may be a bit late returning home this evening. Don't wait supper for me."

"Where are you going?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"I am going to the movies with Grandpa Goosey Gander," answered the rabbit gentleman. "I'll very likely stay to supper with him, and so I won't come home until after dark. May I have the pleasure of bringing you anything?"

"Just a few candles," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Candles? When we have electric light and gas in our bungalow?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Why candles?"

"You never can tell when the gas will go out, or when the electric wires may break," spoke Nurse Jane. "It is always well to have a few candles in the place."

"I'll bring you some," promised Uncle Wiggily, with a low and polite bow of his tall silk hat.

Then away he went, hopping over the fields and through the woods. He was twinkling his pink nose and whistling a jolly tune, for he was sure he would have a fine time with Grandpa Goosey at the movies.

As Uncle Wiggily hopped across a field, not far from the pen of Grandpa Goosey, the bunny gentleman saw a number of large, round yellow things.

"Pumpkins, as sure as I have whiskers!" exclaimed the bunny with a laugh. "What a fine lot of pies those pumpkins will make! I must take one to Nurse Jane, as well as some candles, when I go home. Yes, I'll take her a large pumpkin."

Thinking of this made Uncle Wiggily remember the candles, so he hopped to the store and bought half a dozen, putting them up inside his tall silk hat where they would be safe.

And now for a nice visit with Grandpa Goosey," said Uncle Wiggily, "and after we sit about and talk a bit and eat a bit we'll go to the movies."

The bunny gentleman soon reached the pen of his feathered friend.

"Hello, Grandpa Goosey!" called Uncle Wiggily, and as he took off his hat, out fell the bundle of candles.

"My goodness What's that?" quacked Grandpa Goosey in surprise.

"Oh, just some candles for Nurse Jane!" laughed Uncle Wiggily.

"I thought they were firecrackers!" said Grandpa Goosey, holding one wing over his heart. "I was quite frightened for the moment."

"Don't be worried—they're only candles," said the bunny, as he put them in his hat again, and set his hat on a shelf.

Uncle Wiggily and Grandpa Goosey played Scotch checkers for a time, then they had something to eat and in the evening they went to the movies. They had a fine time and laughed at the funny pictures. The only thing that happened was that when Uncle Wiggily took off his hat out fell the candles again, and those near him, in the movie theatre, jumped.

But in the end it was a good thing Uncle Wiggily had the candles. For in the middle of the picture the film broke, and all the lights went out, and only that the rabbit had some candles, which he lighted, they would all have been in the dark. But after a while the lights went up again, the candles were blown out and given back to Uncle Wiggily, and the play went on.

A little later, after the pictures, Uncle Wiggily started home with the candles in his hat. At first it was moonlight, and the bunny could easily see his way. But after a while the moon went behind some clouds, and it was very dark.

"I must light a candle to see my way home," thought Uncle Wiggily.

He lighted a candle but the wind blew it out. Once again the bunny lighted one of the candles, but again the wind blew it out. But by the fitful gleam of his candle Uncle Wiggily saw the field full of pumpkins.

"Oh, I'll make myself a pumpkin lantern!" said the rabbit. "I'll hollow out a pumpkin and put a candle inside. Then the wind can't blow it out."

Uncle Wiggily picked a pumpkin, and soon had scooped out the soft inside. Then, as he was cutting holes in it so the candle light could shine through, the bunny thought to himself:

"I'll make a Jack-o'-Lantern while I'm at it." And he did, cutting eyes, nose and a mouth in the pumpkin, and making a grinning face to his lantern. Putting a candle inside, and lighting it, Uncle Wiggily could then easily see the path home.

And when he was almost at his bungalow, all of a sudden, out jumped the Fuzzy Fox! But Uncle Wiggily flickered on the Fox the grinning pumpkin lantern and the Fox howled:

"Oh, I didn't know you had a hobgoblin with you! Oh, wow!" And away ran the Fox.

"Pumpkin lanterns are very useful," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh, as he hopped into his hollow stump bungalow.

And if the button hook doesn't pull the door mat in through the keyhole to let the piano stool go to sleep on it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's paper basket.

Why lather your teeth with suds and paste?

Why, indeed, when concentrated lemon juice whitens and cleans them so much better without any disagreeable messing of the mouth? Few dentists recommend and still fewer use in their own practice soapy dentifrices and mouth washes.

On the other hand a constantly growing number of conscientious dentists are using on their own teeth and in their daily work in preference to all others. DENTOMEL is new as a product although the scientific truth behind it was learned several years ago. For years authorities in dental hygiene have known the value of lemon juice for combating every condition that leads to the decay and loss of teeth but until now it has not been possible to produce a dentifrice made from fresh lemons.

DENTOMEL
The Lemon Juice Dentifrice

Get a bottle of DENTOMEL and see for yourself how superior it is to anything you ever have used. The druggist will hold your money simply as a deposit and refund it on request.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

HAY FEVER—No. 1

"My Dear Doctor Peters: I have read with pleasure and profit your articles. I have said good-bye to pounds of fat, and I have cut off five inches from the end of my trousers belt, and I bathed in the ocean with less conscious study of other figures to see: 'Do I look as fat as that man? and I have felt glad that one medico could mix humor with advice and so make it more impressive—and lots of things—all of which are a cause of gratitude. But say, why trouble us with anything right now, especially anything that will keep, when the hay fever season is just starting? and when asthma will as surely succeed it?

"Why is it that when a few mornings ago I woke up and sneezed fifteen times (and with no warning) that I was able to get an immediate 'yes' when I telephoned to two friends several miles from here to ask them if they were also sneezing for the first time? One lives where there are no weeds, only orange trees, one near the sage-brush wash, and one lives on the city pavement.

"Personally, I don't believe anyone really knows much about it. Yes, I have 'tried everything.' I acquired it at an altitude of 10,000 feet in the Colorado mountains where thousands come every year to get rid of it. I also believe that it will always be with us, even as the Turks and Armenians and the Balkan states will be perpetually at war. Yet I am asking you in the hope for something new and effective!

"Oh, yes, one thing more. Why is a hay fever patient fairly happy, even if persistently profane? And why is it that when asthma arrives he plumb hopes he will die soon? —F. R. W."

I gave this letter nearly in its entirety because it is clever and at the same time it gives a good picture of hay fever. First, that the attack comes on suddenly without any warning, that it seems to have no geographical limits, and that it always seems to be with us.

I am glad to say that you are mistaken when you say that no one really knows anything about it, Mr. W. For I have been reading the reports of several doctors who have done research work on the subject, and there is a great deal known about it, and there is a cure.

Hay fever is due to the absorption of the protein of pollen from different plants, in persons who seem to have a susceptibility to it. Some persons have a high susceptibility and some a low. One attack, instead of developing an immunity, seems to make the person more susceptible.

This susceptibility may be caused by an unhealthy condition of the mucous membrane of the nose, or there may be no apparent reason for it. It seems in some cases there may be an inherited tendency also.

The pollens that seem most irritating are the rag weed pollens in the spring, causing the spring fever; and certain grasses, worm wood, chenopods and docks in the fall. Some people have both the spring and the fall fevers.

There are some forms known as a typical form appearing in persons whose mucous membranes are sensitive to the dandruff protein of horses and other animals and the protein of coffee dust, flour, etc. Those would have a perennial form and suffer more or less from hay fever all during the year.

Tomorrow—More on Hay Fever.

Beauty Chats

WEEKLY HAND TREATMENTS

The busiest woman is sure to be the one who needs hand treatments the most. The housewife can manage a little time each day to repair the ravages of cooking and cleaning. But the business woman is rarely mistress of her hours, that is, she will be so tired at night that she will want to rest or enjoy herself, rather than spend her precious leisure beautifying herself.

For such women I would suggest a weekly hand treatment that will not take a great deal of time. This is to wear what are called cosmetic gloves every Saturday night, since Sunday morning she will have more time to continue the treatment. She can purchase any number of bleaching pastes which come for this purpose but plain vaseline or cold cream will do if the hands are simply dry and old looking. A bleaching paste is made as follows:

Powdered myrrh	1 ounce
Honey	4 ounces
Yellow wax	2 ounces
Rosewater	6 ounces

Melt the wax and stir in the myrrh, beat thoroughly and add the honey and rosewater and a little plain glycerine. As it cools it hardens, but by adding the glycerine you will soon have a paste that will spread easily.

Scrub the hands thoroughly with hot water and soap, removing stains with lemon juice. Rinse, rub in a generous quantity of paste and pull on over the hands an old pair of loose kid gloves. Wear these all night. In the morning wash off the paste with soap and water and as soon as convenient afterwards give the nails a thorough manicure. Such a treatment once a week will always keep the hands pretty.

Cutlic—A girl of 15, 5 ft., 4 in., is normal weight at 110 to 115 pounds.

If your hair becomes too oily before shampoo time dust some powder through it and allow it to remain on only long enough to absorb the excess oil. Shake all of this out of the hair, as any that remains will cause it to dry and become eventually brittle.

Oxfords and woolen hose make a comfortable combination as they afford protection and freedom for exercising.

Turkey—Hare-lip is a case for expert surgery. No formula will avail.

Tomorrow—A Perfumed Breath

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Practical Housekeeping

by Florence Austin Chase

PLAIN, WHOLESOME FOOD

So many mothers having children who are underweight do not seem to comprehend just what is meant by "plain, wholesome food" when they are told by physician or school visiting nurse that is what their children need and must have in order to be restored to a healthy, normal condition. I am informed that nine out of every ten mothers will turn immediately and ask what sort of food is meant by "plain, wholesome." They ask for an outline of menus, "something definite to go by," as they express it.

The diet should be arranged to secure a sufficient variety, not only for the purpose of making the meal more appetizing, but to provide for all the needs of the growing body. (This includes bones and teeth). The diet of every day should include the following articles: Milk, cereals, eggs, bread and butter, vegetables and fruit.

There is no one article of food more important in the dietary of children than milk, and it is one of the few foods which supply all the nutrients, fats, carbohydrates and proteids. Each child should be given one quart of whole milk every day, a large glass at least three times a day, in addition to custards, cream soups, cocoa, bread made with milk, and the like.

Bread and butter comes next in importance. Never remove crusts from bread to be given to the children. Crisp toast, coarse breads and dry crusts assist in the development of the teeth, polishes them and keeps them solid, as well as the gums firm. Pure butter should be given children. If a substitute must be used for the sake of economy, let the adults have the substitute and give the butter to the children. Butter fat contains vitamines that no other fat has. It is a valuable food for the growing child.

Cereals are important in the child's dietary. A bowl of well-cooked oatmeal with topmilk and a very little sugar should be given at least three or four times a week, the intervening mornings some other cereal—cooked preferred—should be given. I cannot leave the subject of cereals without adding a word of caution in regard to the cooking of cereals for children. Oatmeal needs three or four hours' slow cooking in double boiler, fireless cooker or some other slow cooking device. Other package cereals require longer cooking than the time that is usually given in directions on the package.

Fruit is necessary for body processes and should be supplied children daily. Expensive fruits are not necessary. A plain baked apple with a very little sugar; prunes that have been soaked long enough to absorb all of the water they will take up, then cooked slowly until soft, adding a very little or no sugar; apple sauce; orange juice; bananas, peeled and scraped (raw apples may be eaten by the older children). Grape fruit and other very acid fruits should not be given to children.

Vegetables should be supplied children in generous measure. Spinach, carrots, string beans, celery, baked or plain boiled Irish potatoes and tomatoes, cooked, are the most valuable.

White-fleshed fish, crisp bacon, white meat of chicken, rare broiled lamb or beef, and eggs may be given children once a day.

Custards, junket, rice pudding or some other plain pudding should be given occasionally. Children should not be allowed to continually spend their pennies in the "candy shop."

A sufficient amount of rest is essential to the well-being of every child. A mid-day rest, to be continued with all children at least to school age. There should be an early bed hour to secure the necessary amount of sleep.

Side Talks

"Well, I don't see much in her for two men to go crazy about."

The "her" of that sentence was a woman whose picture was in the paper because her husband had shot another man who was in love with her.

The critic who couldn't see much in the woman was a newspaper reader. "I don't understand," she went on to say, "Why so many women who are perfect frights get mixed up with other people's husbands and all that sort of thing. Why, look at that woman. Isn't she as homely as a hedge fence?"

"How do you know she's homely?" I asked.

She looked at me as if she wondered if I were out of my head.

Her Pictures Are Caricatures.

And yet that woman herself takes about as miserable a picture as anyone I ever saw. If someone, who had never seen her, saw half a dozen of her pictures he would never get a glimpse of her as she really looks. She is not at all pretty but she has plenty of charm and attractiveness. But none of it seems to get through to her pictures.

She knows this. Or, at least, she know that her pictures are caricatures. And she knows the same thing in greater or less degree is true of many of her friends. And yet when it comes to a picture of someone she hasn't met, it never occurs to her that she isn't really seeing the person, only a picture.

Funny thing about pictures, isn't it? Funny how some people can't take a good one and others can't take a bad one. I recently visited a new friend whom my family have never met. In order to be able to let them know what she is like I took half a dozen snap shots. I never saw pictures look so much better than the person. "What a pretty girl," everyone says. And yet she is not pretty at all.—charming, vivacious, but not pretty and I know they would not think so if they saw her.

People who can laugh or smile easily and attractively take the best pictures. Analyze the snapshots you have of people who always take a good picture, and see if the majority of them are not smiling or laughing.

I think men as a rule take better snap shots than women, fair people than dark.

They See Three Different Faces

Pictures, as well as everything else, get some of their value and meaning from the eye of the beholder. If three people look at a snapshot, and one is a casual friend of the subject, another is her lover, and a third has never seen her, those three people each see something entirely different in the picture.

Pictures of oneself are like poker hands, always fascinating because the next may be a royal straight. And except to the favored few they are still like poker hands, because most of them aren't even fit to open on.

Tomorrow—We all do it sometimes.

Book Reviews

"The Love Legend," by Woodward Boyd, is a new book recently published by the Charles Scribner's Sons company. "A girl has only to live in sweetness and light and sooner or later Prince Charming will ride up and carry her away to live happily ever after"—so runs the Love Legend. And, under its influence, insofar as a sentimental mother could diffuse it, the four sisters, Ward, Sari, Dizzy and Nita, grew up in a suburb of Chicago.

This is the highly amusing and often touching story of how these very different and very American girls reacted to the Love Legend, a story pervaded by such a repugnance of humbug and such an appreciation of the genuine as to form a sharp and significant commentary upon American life.

It reveals a new talent and one to be marked—a writer who sees for herself and speaks in her own way. Her experience as a reporter, first on the Chicago Journal and then on the Daily News, may have trained her eye and hand, but she says: "I always wrote things. Little verses when I was eight —stories imitative of 'The Wizard of Oz,' 'The Little Colonel,' and then one effort which I skipped high school to do—a historical novel which progressed through ten chapters before my parents found that instead of attending school I was spending my days in the Chicago public library."

Miss Boyd has presented a representative American family with a skill that holds the interest and attention of the readers in "The Love Legend."

Ralph Stock, whose "Cruise of the Dream Ship" was numbered among the most fascinating books of a year or so ago, has written another tale, built to lure the most fireside-bound human from his easy chair and slippers.

"South of the Line" is a group of short stories of the South Seas, but told occasionally from the viewpoint of a native instead of that of a white outsider.

Felisi, the gentle and inquiring young heroine of the first story, enjoys a leisurely existence on one of the tiny islands of the Antipodean group. Felisi is 17, and she "inquires to know." Especially eager is her curiosity anent the amazing white man; a creature of strange parts — resourceful, brave, yet at the same time colossally igorant and teeming with conceit. So Felisi calmly places herself in the most advantageous position for analyzing this phenomenon at close range. Her resultant theories and conclusions make a delightful little tale.

The remaining stories are incidental sketches of men and women in the alluring isles, told with Stock's agreeable charm.

If you have done an injury, go like a man, and acknowledge and repair it.

No matter where your pain is located—in the back, shoulders, arms, legs or loins—you can get relief without taking anything to deaden the nerves.

Most people do not know that sciatica, rheumatism, neuralgia, bad teeth, colds and other ailments often end up in neuritis or nerve inflammation.

The quickest way to reach the diseased nerves is by absorption. That's where Tysmol gets in its work. Tysmol is applied over the spot where you feel the pain, and is taken up through the pores of the skin. It soothes and heals the inflamed nerves, helping to restore them to healthy condition.

Tysmol contains no dope—no poison. Absolutely harmless.

DOBLE STEAM CAR

Will Be Demonstrated IN GLENDALE

The Doble Steam Car will be on display Thursday, November 9th, between the hours of 9 A. M. and 12 Noon, at the northeastern corner of Brand and Broadway.

The Doble Steam Car is the most sensational motor car in the whole history of the motor car industry.

In building the Doble Car, Abner Doble has eliminated all the "bugs" of the steam cars of former years. He has built a car without a clutch, without transmission gears, without a drive shaft and universal joints. The Doble Car has no pilot light, no scale to remove, no frequent stops for water, no racing motor, no carbon to remove, no valves to grind, no oil pump to fail. The Doble Car has no self-starter—a simple turn of the switch and advance the throttle and this marvelous car is G-O-N-E.

In its action the Doble Car is as smooth as a bird, as powerful as a locomotive and so flexible that it leaps from one to sixty miles an hour in a few seconds.

In a word the Doble Car is so simple, so flexible, so silent, so durable, so far superior to any other automobile that a new set of standards is necessary to gauge its worthiness.

Be Absolutely Sure That You See the Doble Steam Car in Action THURSDAY, Nov. 9, at 11 o'clock on Brand Blv'd., Between Harvard and Wilson Sts.

Gains Experience In Number of Eastern Houses; Help to Glendale Women

Miss Emma Heitz of the Fashion Center in the new Monarch building must take "all the blame" for the clever house frocks Glendale maids and matrons are wearing these days, and she smiles with satisfaction over the "accusation," for she has made home dresses one of her specialities for several years, so no wonder she has designs on Glendale women as to their house attire.

Lingerie is another specialty of Miss Heitz and in her department at the Fashion Center she has quantities of clever, dainty garments in finest muslins and silks.

There are two good reasons for Miss Heitz's success since coming to Glendale, one her pleasing personality and the other a broad experience in buying and selling.

Lots of Experience

Miss Heitz, who is a native of Cincinnati, has served as buyer and seller of home dresses and lingerie for some of the largest eastern and western stores and this experience has given her a splendid background for her Glendale success.

Her business career has included associations with Strawbridge & Clothier, Philadelphia; Gimbel Bros., New York; Mandel Bros., Chicago; the Bon Marche, Seattle, and several of the larger Los Angeles stores.

Nervous Stomach CAUSES GAS

Gas in the stomach and bowels doesn't always result from dyspepsia, improper diet or the fermentation of food. In most cases it is due to a highly sensitive condition of the stomach nerves.

To get rid of the trouble, you must build up and strengthen these weak, irritated nerves of the stomach. Taking artificial digesters, such as pepsin or bismuth, only makes the stomach weaker than ever. It is like using dope to deaden a pain—the relief given is deceptive and harmful.

Baalmann's Gas Tablets act directly upon the affected nerves and gradually assist in restoring them to their natural, healthy state. Gas and bloating will quickly disappear, and you will no longer be bothered with pain around your heart, palpitation, shortness of breath, gnawing at the pit of the stomach or distress after eating, due to gas. Ask for Baalmann's Gas Tablets in the famous yellow package. Price $1. Sold by Roberts & Echols. J. Baalmann, Chemist, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

Russian Scientists Hunt Iron Deposit

MOSCOW. — The All-Russian congress of physicists has just held a meeting at Nizhny Novgorod, where ninety-nine papers were presented reviewing the achievements of science in Russia and abroad during recent years. Two hundred members were in attendance — professors, engineers, chemists and physicists. The subjects discussed were physics, radio technique, technophysics and biophysics.

An expedition to eastern Siberia was projected to make observations of magnetic conditions. The object is to find, perhaps in the valleys of the Amur and Lena rivers, a tremendous iron basin hidden there.

A movement was started to begin again the publication of scientific works in Russia.

Farmer Wears Suit Just Forty Years

YORK, S. C.—"Uncle Jim" McGill, farmer, who lives near here, still wears for his "Sunday best" the suit of clothes that he was married in forty years ago. "Uncle Jim" comes to York, the county seat, about three times a year, and he always wears the marriage suit. It still looks pretty good, although there has been a wonderful change in styles in the past four decades.

WOMAN MADE JOB TO SUIT HERSELF

She Found Old Position Too Monotonous So Arranges Better One on Railroad

NEW YORK—Pounding out car records on a typewriter at $40 a month proved to be far too monotonous for Miss Mabel T. Gesser. So she got herself a job of her own creation, that of passenger representative of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Miss Gesser is the first woman to hold such a place in the organization of any railroad company operating east of Chicago. In inducing the conservative railroad officials to give her a place she broke all precedents. And, incidentally, to base the statement on testimony of her superior officers, she is making good decidedly.

Sixteen years ago, when, as a young girl, Miss Gessner went to work in the general offices of the lines in Baltimore, they put her to work in the car service department. In the car service department it is necessary to keep a record of where the railroad cars are from day to day.

Very Complicated

It is all very complicated. Miss Gessner had to copy on a typewriter the name of the railroad that owned the car, the number of the car and the time it was on this line or that. It was just the kind of job that sets one's head to spinning.

Miss Gessner at length made up her mind precisely what she wanted to do and the office to which she wanted to be attached. She decided that she wanted to be a passenger representative of the system and applied for the post.

She waited to the end of the war, and the matter of her job came up again when the government relinquished its control of the railroad systems of the country.

She went to work December 1 last, in Baltimore, with a fairly definite idea of how she was going to carry out her program. One of the first things Miss Gessner did was to go around to some of the girls' schools in Baltimore. She talked with the students and, so far as possible, showed them the advantages of making the journey on her railroad.

Obtained Reservations

She obtained their Pullman reservations for them and looked up train connections and in many other ways saw to it they would get good service if they went on the railroad by which she was employed.

Those girls who lived too far away to get home for the holidays were a problem for Miss Gessner for a short time. Then she hit upon the scheme of getting up a trip to Washington and eleswhere, altogether a sightseeing expedition which would serve to entertain the young women as well as bring business for the railroad.

She even went to Washington herself to show the girls around. She made it a point not to interpose herself as a chaperon, but tried merely to be around in the event that the girls needed her help.

One of the things Miss Gessner always does is to read the newspapers, both morning and afternoon. They always furnish leads for her. She sees in the newspa- in some distant city. Miss Gess- is preparing to hold a convention pers that this organization or that ner looks up the connections and goes around to see the various delegates.

Hawaiian Port Is Wettest on Earth

HONOLUTU.—Here's one of the wettest spots in the world. The annual rainfall record at the station of the U. S. Weather bureau located on the upper slopes of Puu Kukui, island of Mauri, Hawaiian group, is 562 inches. The Puu Kukui gauge stands at an elevation of 5,000 feet. For many years the summit of Mount Waialeale, Kaui, has been accounted the wettest spot in the islands and one of the wettest in the world, but the new record of Puu Kukui defeats it.

Republican Majority In House Cut Down

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—As the result of yesterday's elections, in the house of representatives the present overwhelming Republican majority of 169 has been cut almost to the vanishing point, and it may conceivably be contralled by the other barty by a few votes. The belief prevailed, however, that in the final tabulations, the Republicans will have maintained control by a small margin. Returns from congressional districts in the west have been slow coming in.

The magnitude of the Democratic gains, however, may be judged from returns in the populous centers of the country which went overwhelmingly Republican two years ago.

On the face of returns this forenoon, the Democrats have gained 15 seats in New York, making twenty-four Democrats from New York in the next house, as against nine in the present one; they have gained seven seats in New Jersey, eight in Pennsylvania, twelve in Missouri, two in Kansas; three in Tennessee; four in West Virginia; eight in Ohio; five in Indiana; four in Oklahoma, and two in Nebraska, and a scattering from other states.

Arizona Democrats Elect Whole Ticket

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 8.—Election of the entire state Democratic ticket together with Democratic congressmen was virtually assured on the face of partial returns from twelve out of the fourteen counties in Arizona early today.

The election of Senator Henry C. Ashurst and Congressman Carl Hayden by large majorities was indicated.

Supporters of Governor Thomas Campbell, seeking re-election, early today conceded the election of G. W. R. Hunt, Democrat. Hunt's majority in the state will be between 4,000 and 5,000 scattering returns indicated.

Democratic Nominee In Montana Winner

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 8. — Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat, was elected United States senator from Montana over Congressman Carl W. Riddick, Republican, according to returns received at an early hour today by an indicated majority of more than 15,000. With 640 election precincts out of 1,525 Wheeler had 41,431 against 30,689 for Riddick and his majority was gaining steadily.

Alice Robertson Is Beaten for Congress

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 8.—Only one Republican for congress was able to stand out in the avalanche of Democratic votes yesterday in Oklahoma's eight congressional districts. He was Milton C. Garber of Enid, contender for the seat of Manuel Herrick.

Alice Robertson, Republican, "only woman in congress," went down to defeat before W. W. Hastings, Democrat, by almost a two to one vote.

Governor Edwards Is Chosen to Senate

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 8.—Governor Edward I. Edwards, Democrat, has defeated Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen, Republican, for the United States senate, by a plurality in excess of 85,000, according to nearly complete returns this morning.

With complete returns in from 2,120 districts out of the 2,464 in the state, Edwards had 400,094, Frelinghuysen 355,566; Runyon, Republican, 335,670.

Chicago Democratic; Soldiers' Bonus Wins

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Chicago and Cook county went sweepingly Democratic. Illinois voted 8 to 5 for light wine and beer. Chicago about 7 to 1 for beer.

The soldiers' bonus won in Illinois by four to one.

These were the outstanding features of the election in Illinois as shown by figures compiled today.

Sacramento Ballots Against Wright Act

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8.—With returns coming in slowly due to the size of the ballot, a complete count of votes in 51 city and county precincts, indicated early today Thomas Lee Woolwine, Democrat candidate for governor, would lead Friend W. Richardson by a comfortable majority in Sacramento county.

Woolwine was leading the Republican candidate 3,168 to 2,275.

Senator Hiram Johnson had a heavy lead over his Democratic opponent for the senate seat, William J. Pearson, in Sacramento and the northern counties. In 32 precincts, Johnson had a lead of practically four to one.

Incomplete returns also showed Sacramento county would go overwhelmingly against the Wright prohibition enforcement act and strongly in favor of the two veteran welfare measures.

In the same number of precincts, a vote of 2,409 was cast against proposition 19, the water and power act, while 2,180 votes favored the measure.

Wilson 'Gratified' at Election Results

WASHINGGTON, Nov. 8. — Woodrow Wilson, former President and leader of Democracy, was "deeply gratified" by the decision of the American people at the polls Tuesday, it was stated today at his S street home.

The former President, although not yet recovered from his long illness, showed a great interest in the election returns, which flowed into his home all night long. Early today he was engaged in reading hundreds of telegrams from Democratic leaders all over the country who telegraphed their rejoicing.

Kendrick, Democrat, Re-elected to Senate

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 8.—The re-election of United States Senator John B. Kendrick, Democrat, was conceded here early today by Republican leaders, when a compilation of returns from 120 precincts out of 659 in the state gave him a lead of 1,876 over Frank W. Mondell, Republican leader of the house of representatives. Democratic leaders claimed Kendrick's majority would reach 2500.

Los Angeles Votes for F. Richardson

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—Unofficial returns from 255 city and county precincts out of 1453 at 7 a. m. today gave: Governor, Richardson (R) 18,843, Woolwine (D) 11,710. Secretary of state, Jensen (D) 4,383, Jordan (R) 22,905. Treasurer, Johnson 18,622. Senator, Johnson (R) 17,046, Pearson (D) 7,888. Veterans' bill, yes, 15,383; no, 6,311; Wright bill, yes, 14,322, no, 13,538; welfare bonds, yes, 15,612; no, 6,584; water and power act, yes, 7,512; no, 17,895.

Mayfield Defeats His Fusion Opponent

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 8.—On the basis of returns from 211 counties, fourteen complete, out of 251 in the state, indications were this morning that Earle B. Mayfield, Democratic nominee, had been elected to the United States senate by from 175,000 to 200,000 over his "fusion" opponent, George E. B. Peddy. The vote from those counties showed Mayfield leading by 97,000, the tabulation being, Mayfield 167,139 and Peddy 70,039.

Senator Pomerene Gaining In Count

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8.—Senator Atlee Pomerene was whittling the lead of his Republican opponent as returns came in this afternoon. At noon from 6,425 precincts for senator: Fess, 552,875; Pomerene, 545,284.

Thompson carried Cuyahoga county by a margin of 2,647 on complete returns, while Pomerene led Fess in the county by 2,505.

FERDINAND PLACING CROWN UPON HEAD OF QUEEN

Bucharest, Roumania, was the scene recently of one of the most picturesque royal ceremonies ever held in modern times. King Ferdinand and his queen were crowned rulers of the little Balkan kingdom amid mediaeval scenes and solemn splendor. The mountain folks were in their national costumes, the priests of the church were magnificent in their robes of state, and courtiers and civilians vied, one with the other, to make the event a memorable one.

Blacks Top Whites In S. C. Schools

YORK, S. C.—There are now twenty-one more colored children in the public schools of York county than there are white children, according to the annual report of John E. Carroll, county superintendent of education.

Three years ago there were 1000 more negroes than whites, but the adoption of the compulsory education laws by the state has forced many whites to go to school. York county spends a per capita of $52.60 for the education of her white children and only $3.82 for the negro children.

CINCINNATI, O. — An eight-story building, for physicians' offices exclusively, is to be built here on Garfield place. RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS BACKACHE

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Nichols Objects to Shower of Paper

Editor The Evening News: Is there any law in Glendale that can be enforced to keep men and boys, who deliver all sorts of unnecessary tracts, hand bills and papers, from injuring our property?

In the first place they NEVER use the sidewalks, but walk all over the lawns, no matter whether newly seeded or old sod—also they walk right through our hedges on both sides; we have had to replace a great many broken hedges just because some man or boy has no more thought of what a struggle we have to beautify our homes. Glendale wants pretty homes and yards, but what encouragement have we for working hard to make a lovely place, then have it torn up by thoughtless men and boys.

There should be an absolute ordinance against all these hand bills, tracts, etc., being thrown on our yards and porches—what are the newspapers for but to advertise?

Each day I pick up from two to ten papers, bills, tracts, etc., off my porch and from my mail box, and I see just that many men and boys tear across my lawn and through my hedges, and I am doing just what every neighbor is doing all the time—complaining—only I am going to register the complaint and see what can be actually done.

MRS. J. NICHOLS.

Actress Shoots Self, According to Police

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. — Mrs. Jacquelin Llewellyn, 25, pretty actress, shot and probably fatally wounded herself, according to police today at her room in Ellis street. She is said to be dying at the emergency hospital.

According to police, Mrs. Llewellyn came to San Francisco from Long Beach last month with a man named Russell Ransom. She is said to have been despondent because of money affairs and separation with her husband who is in Mexico.

She kept the revolver, an automatic, under the pillow and this morning, according to police, shot herself just below the heart.

INITIAL MEETING IS HELD BY EAGLE ROCK C. OF C.

Many Matters of Civic Importance Discussed by City Trustees

The first open meeting of the season the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce was held last night at the office of The Eagle Rock Daily News and was attended by about forty members. Chairs had been brought over from the city hall, and the Hancock Music company loaned a phonograph to entertain the members before the meeting opened.

O. J. Root, president of the chamber, presided. He opened the meeting with an enthusiastic talk, in which he brought out the necessity of a closer relationship between the members as well as the necessity of providing means for raising additional funds.

The minutes of the last open meeting of the chamber, together with the minutes of the past two meetings of the executive officers, were read by the secretary. They were approved and all outstanding bills on which invoices had been presented were ordered paid.

Plan Float

Mrs. F. M. Rungs, of the Twentieth Century Woman's club, arose and requested that the chamber donate funds for the float that will represent the city at Pasadena New Year's Day. The board of trustees of the city of Eagle Rock have, it is understood, already provided $150 for the float, but Mrs. Rungs explained that it would take in the neighborhood of $350 to provide the sort of a float that had been planned.

While no definite action was taken on Mrs. Rung's request, she was given assurance that the matter would be taken up before the executive officers and a report made to her at the next open meeting. From Mr. Root's remarks on the subject, intimation was given that favorable action would be taken.

M. T. Hancock, chairman of the entertainment committee, told the members of plans he had arranged for the entertainment at the big Chamber of Commerce banquet to be given November 16, and he was instructed to go ahead and complete the arrangements. The price of the tickets for the banquet were set at $1.25 each.

Much discussion was entailed when the question of raising the yearly dues came before the members. Many different plans were submitted, but it was finally agreed that the yearly membership dues should be increased to $5 per year. The dues were formerly $2 per year.

The tentative appointments for the standing committees for the coming year that had been made by the executive officers were approved, which makes their appointment final. It was also agreed to allow George Van Sands a salary of $30 per month as secretary.

It was moved by H. G. Warren and seconded by J. J. Broomhall and passed, that immediate steps be taken for the attempt to secure a gas office, a telegraph office and an express office for Eagle Rock.

Traffic Violations

The large number of arrests in Eagle Rock for traffic violations then came up for discussion, and several members voiced their disapproval of the present traffic situation in Eagle Rock. Plans were outlined for placing large signs on all highways entering the city, warning visitors that traffic officers were patrolling the streets. By unanimous consent the matter was referred to the executive committee with power to act.

One the signing of the Armistice which ended the Great War, and the other the nearing completion of the negotiations which will make a reality of thefr dreams of a new home.

An invitation to march in the parade has been extended by the American Legion to all Boy Scouts and Scout Leaders in the Verdugo Hills district and Harold Benner, scout executive, has officially accepted the invitation on behalf of the organization. The line of march will be very short according to Captain Dru Nicoles, grand marshal.

Following the parade two squads of huskies from the Burbank and Glendale High schools will meet in an earnest football tangle, and in the afternoon two of the best teams from the Pacific fleet will fight their championship contest.

If present plans carry the Boy Scouts will be put in charge of policing the grounds during the football games and rendering service to the big crowds that are expected.

Scouts and Leaders Needed

"We need every Scout and Scout leader we can muster," declared Executive Benner. "The crowds are expected to be big and no doubt our Scouts will have plenty of minor first aid work to render in addition to restoring lost children to their parents, directing people, parking automobiles, etc. When called upon the Scouts are always on the job and prepared for any work of service and I feel confident that every last Scout and Scout leader that can possibly do it will be present to help make Armistice Day a truly great event."

In order to avoid confusion Scouts and Scout leaders are urged to study the following instructions:

Where to Assemble—Glendale Union High Sshool Athletic field.

Time—Promptly at 10 a. m. Parade starts at 10:30.

Marching Formation — By troops in patrol formation, Scoutmasters leading, Troop committeemen following, assistant masters next and then the Scouts.

Be in Uniform—Every Scout who can possibly get a uniform should have one for Armistice Day, but whether you have a uniform or not we will need you urgently.

Personal Equipment—A lunch and a small first aid kit with the following articles: One-inch roller bandage, small bottle spirits of ammonia and tincture of iodine, and a smiling disposition. "A Scout is cheerful."

Troop Equipment—American, troop, and patrol flags, drums, bugles, etc.

EAGLE ROCK HAS MUSICAL EVENING

Concert Given at Home of Miss Esther Gleiss Is Well Rendered

The Thursday morning musical club gave a musical evening last Saturday night at the home of Miss Esther Gleiss, 221 North Central avenue.

The affair was given in honor of the young artist club, which has recently been organized by Miss Ethel M. Congdon, former president of the Thursday morning musical club. An interesting program was presented by the young artists.

Miss Constance Braasch, pianist, gave two very delightful numbers, "Impromto" in A flat, major, Chopin, and Alt Weim by Godowsky, which she played with much warmth and fluent technique.

Gives Violin Solo

Virgil Drengberg, violinist, gave a very beautiful Sonata for violin and piano, first movement, by Mozart, which showed his fine technique and brilliant playing. He was accompanied by Miss Margaret Stuchwich, who also gave two piano numbers, Prelude in F. Minor by Chopin and Reflections on the Water by DeBussy, which she played with much poise and facile technique.

Impromptu selections were given by Miss Esther Gleiss, violiniste, Romance for Violin and piano composed by Ruth Thompson, with the composer at the piano.

Miss Hatch Plays

Piano numbers by Miss Beryl Hatch, Second Mazurka by Godard and the minute valse, Chopin, which the young artist played with much musical taste. The piano number by Mrs. Wallingford-Flatterer by Chaminade, showed a brilliancy in playing to a marked degree. An informal talk was made by Mrs. Edna Lawrence, former piano teacher of Long Beach, who recently came to Eagle Rock to join the musical colony. Her topic was, "How Music Gives Joy in the Homes and Broadens and Refines One's Taste." The intermezzo by Mascagni was beautifully rendered by Mr. Green.

THEATRES

The Glendale

Harold Lloyd in "Grandma's Boy," at the Glendale theatre, plays the part of a country boy who was afraid. He had no more spirit than a jack rabbit. The other kids had knocked enough chips off his shoulders to start a lumber yard. As a baby he was afraid to call his cradle his own. At school he wore great holes in his stockings, where his knees shook together. At nineteen he was meek, modest and retiring.

The Boy's most precious possession was his old-fashioned grandma. When the Girl came into his life, and then a rival who was a big bully, the Boy's days were made miserable. Then came the realization of his weakness and cowardice. How he goes out and conquers his fear makes the film one of hilarious situations and some great thrills.

The T. D. & L.

Romance comes riding across the screen in picturesque seventeenth century garb in the production of "Lorna Doone," now playing at the T. D. & L. theater. From a novel that has been a favorite with three generations, Maurice Tourneur has produced a film that combines the beauty of an old world painting and the thrills of a modern melodrama.

Against the background of the Devonshire hills and moors, visited annually by hundreds of tourists who have shuddered over the deeds of the "bloody Doones," the beautiful love story of the captive Lorna is told. Characters of the familiar book enact with realism the dramatic episodes that are known to every student of English classics.
